2. ORGANIZATION OVERVIEW

UPLOAD PROPOSAL

We understand you fill out many applications; we have tried to make ours easier where we can. Please upload a proposal you have recently completed that most accurately represents your organization’s mission and programs. Please make sure to include your organization’s operating budget. NOTE: This proposal can be from a grant request submitted to any organization (does not have to be one submitted to the T. Rowe Price Foundation), and you can upload more than one file if needed.

OVERVIEW

We are deeply interested in your organization’s point of view about your work and the individuals and communities you interact with on a daily basis. We have limited our curiosity to the five questions below, which we ask of all our applicants:

QUESTIONS

- Please describe what your organization believes are the underlying causes that have led to the challenges in the area in which you work. If you are a returning grant applicant, please describe how the underlying causes may have shifted or changed since your last grant submission.
Why we are asking this: Your organization immerses itself daily in your focus area -- we respect your wealth of experience and deep firsthand knowledge, and we hope to learn from your perspective and expertise.

- Please tell us how your organization leverages assets to create positive change (e.g. partnerships, your organization's experience and strengths, other resources, etc.). How does this approach improve your service or offering? If you are a returning grant applicant, you are welcome to share any new insights, practices, or partners since your last grant submission.
Why we are asking this: We feel there is much to be gained by leveraging and amplifying strengths rather than focusing on challenges, and we want to hear from you about what makes your organization powerful.
- In what ways has your organization shown improvement at creating positive change for the individuals and/or communities you engage with?
Why we are asking this: We value growth over perfection and believe that reflection is a key part of doing good work. Additionally, we believe sharing those reflections and learnings can lift our community.
- Please tell us how the community has a voice in your organization's work. For example, how does the community give input, shape programs, influence decisions, etc.?
Why we are asking this: We tend to see that there is a correlation between the strength of an organization's relationship with the community it serves and its effectiveness in making a sustained, positive difference for that community. We are interested in hearing how your organization gives your community a voice in your work. Many nonprofits include community members in their governance (e.g. through board positions), but we are open to learning about any and all ways you seek and use community input.
- Please tell us how your community will look different as a result of the work you are doing. How are your efforts specifically responsible for this important change?
Why we are asking this: What is your vision? Again, it is often easy to get caught up focusing on challenges, but we would love to hear from you -- what is possible for your focus area? And how does your organization's work move towards this possibility?

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES FOR GRANT APPLICANTS

We want to make sure each of our partners has access to any resources they need to make the biggest difference in our community. We also understand that figuring out how and when to use new resources often comes with its own learning curve, so we have compiled the below list of resources we think might be beneficial:

iCAT – <https://algorithm.io/icat/>

What is it? iCAT is an organizational assessment tool that offers:

- Data-driven scores for 33 distinct dimensions of organizational capacity and effectiveness
- Support for administering and interpreting the assessment
- Individualized recommendations for follow-up based on score patterns and trends

Who should use it? Consider completing an iCAT assessment if your organization:

- Is working with a funder or consultant interested in your nonprofit's organizational health
- Wants to know what areas to focus on to increase its impact and effectiveness
- Has previously completed an iCAT assessment and wants to see if and how your organization's scores have changed
- Has been selected for a T. Rowe Price Foundation Campaign grant

OPPORTUNITY360 – <https://www.enterprisecommunity.org/opportunity360>

What is it? Opportunity 360 is a resource that offers:

- A wealth of data at the zip-code level on outcomes in neighborhoods across the US. This data is based on multiple indicators from both public and proprietary sources
- Tools to support communicating (or “storytelling”) about data with various stakeholders
- A navigational tool to help non-profits discover potential partners in other sectors of their communities

Who should use it? Use Opportunity360 if your organization:

- Wants to find out more information about the neighborhoods it serves
- Wants to expand its thinking about possible outcome drivers and partnerships
- Needs to demonstrate links between its outcomes and drivers
- Wants support with how to share, illustrate, and talk about data with your communities
- Wants to build partnerships with other nonprofits serving the same geographic area
- Has a particular focus on increasing housing access
