Our team is deep, experienced, and growing

Our approach to building target date solutions is crafted by our deep and experienced team, including portfolio management, dedicated target date analysts, and asset allocation research professionals.

We've been managing multi-asset portfolios since 1990 and launched our first target date solution in 2002. Our co-portfolio manager model and deep team structure ensure stability.

This team approach has guided our firm since 1937 and has helped cement our leadership position in target date investing.

The evolution of our target date products has been driven by our commitment to research

We were a pioneer of substantial equity allocations in retirement portfolios to make it easier for clients to attempt to overcome longevity risk.

We were the first to implement an extended glide path that continues 30 years past retirement and dynamically adjusts over a participant's life cycle.

We recognized early on the need to provide inflation protection for long-term retirement investing and added the Treasury Inflation Protected Securities Strategy to our portfolios.

These innovations were implemented only after they met the high standards of our research-focused evaluation process.

Investing in the Retirement Funds

The investment portfolios of the Retirement Funds are automatically adjusted over time, both before and after retirement. A Retirement Fund geared toward a longer time horizon, such as 30 years or more, has higher risk/return potential, which gradually becomes more conservative over time.

As the chart below shows, the Retirement Funds' allocations are actively adjusted for approximately 30 years after their target retirement dates before arriving at their final 30% stock, 70% bond ratio. This strategy can help savings continue working throughout a long retirement.

Important Information

The principal value of the Retirement Funds is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after the target date, which is the approximate year an investor plans to retire (assumed to be age 65) and likely stop making new investments in the fund. If an investor plans to retire significantly earlier or later than age 65, the funds may not be an appropriate investment even if the investor is retiring on or near the target date. The funds' allocations among a broad range of underlying T. Rowe Price stock and bond funds and derivatives will (with the exception of the Retirement Balanced Fund) change over time. The funds (other than the Retirement Balanced Fund) emphasize potential capital appreciation during the early phases of retirement asset accumulation, balance the need for appreciation with the need for income as retirement approaches, and focus on supporting an income stream over a long-term postretirement withdrawal horizon. The funds are not designed for a lump-sum redemption at the target date and do not guarantee a particular level of income. The funds maintain a substantial allocation to equities both prior to and after the target date, which can result in greater volatility over shorter time horizons. Derivatives may be riskier or more volatile than other types of investments because they are generally more sensitive to changes in market or economic conditions.

Morningstar Medalist Disclosure

The Morningstar Medalist Rating™ is the summary expression of Morningstar's forward-looking analysis of investment strategies as offered via specific vehicles using a rating scale of Gold, Silver, Bronze, Neutral, and Negative. The Medalist Ratings indicate which investments Morningstar believes are likely to outperform a relevant index or peer group average on a risk-adjusted basis over time. Investment products are evaluated on three key pillars (People, Parent, and Process) which, when coupled with a fee assessment, forms the basis for Morningstar's conviction in those products' investment merits and determines the Medalist Rating they're assigned. Pillar ratings take the form of Low, Below Average, Average, Above Average, and High. Pillars may be evaluated via an analyst's qualitative assessment (either directly to a vehicle the analyst covers or indirectly when the pillar ratings of a covered vehicle are mapped to a related uncovered vehicle) or using algorithmic techniques. Vehicles are sorted by their expected performance into rating groups defined by their Morningstar Category and their active or passive status. When analysts directly cover a vehicle, they assign the three pillar ratings based on their qualitative assessment, subject to the oversight of the Analyst Rating Committee, and monitor and reevaluate them at least every 14 months. When the vehicles are covered either indirectly by analysts or by algorithm, the ratings are assigned monthly. For more detailed information about these ratings, including their methodology, please go to global.morningstar.com/managerdisclosures/.

The Morningstar Medalist Ratings are not statements of fact, nor are they credit or risk ratings. The Morningstar Medalist Rating (i) should not be used as the sole basis in evaluating an investment product, (ii) involves unknown risks and uncertainties which may cause expectations not to occur or to differ significantly from what was expected, (iii) are not guaranteed to be based on complete or accurate assumptions or models when determined algorithmically, (iv) involve the risk that the return target will not be met due to such things as unforeseen changes in management, technology, economic development, interest rate development, operating and/or material costs, competitive pressure, supervisory law, exchange rate, tax rates, exchange rate changes, and/or changes in political and social conditions, and (v) should not be considered an offer or solicitation to buy or sell the investment product. A change in the fundamental factors underlying the Morningstar Medalist Rating can mean that the rating is subsequently no longer accurate.

There are many important factors to consider when planning for retirement, including expected expenses, sources of income, and available assets. Before investing in a Retirement Fund, weigh objectives, time horizon, and risk tolerance. These funds invest in many underlying funds, which means that they are exposed to the risks of different areas of the market. Investors should note that the higher a fund's allocation to stocks, the greater the risk.
