Welcome

Thank you for your decision to invest with us.

This guide provides answers to the most common questions we receive from customers about their accounts. We have designed it to help you open a new account as well as for your future needs, such as maintaining or making changes to your account. By keeping it on hand, you will have a ready reference source whenever you have a question or want to act.

If you still have questions, feel free to contact T. Rowe Price (contact details are on page 9 or your account representative. We also welcome feedback on this guide, our forms, and our prospectuses.

FUND AND SHARE CLASS STRUCTURE

T. Rowe Price Funds SICAV and Select Investment Series III SICAV (collectively “funds”) function each as an umbrella fund. The various funds in which you may invest are all sub-funds of the relevant SICAV.

Within each fund, there are typically several different share classes. Some are open to all investors, while others are only available to investors with certain characteristics. At any given time, a fund may offer all of these classes or only some.

In addition, a fund may offer forms of one of the basic share classes that offer one or more of the following characteristics:

- They either distribute income to investors or reinvest it in additional shares of the same type.
- They are denominated in a currency other than the fund’s base currency. These may be hedged (designed to reduce or eliminate currency risk) or unhedged.
- They may be hedged, with reference to a relevant index, with the intention to preserve the currency exposure taken as part of the investment strategy.
- They may be hedged with the intention to reduce or eliminate the effects of changes in the exchange rate between the fund’s base currency (not the underlying currency exposures) and the share class currency.
- They are reserved shares (shares limited to particular investors, distributors or countries), denoted by a number in the share class suffix.

The table below illustrates how the share class designation and suffix(es) work together to indicate the nature of a class.

Class designation	+	Distribution policy	Class suffix	+	Currency hedging policy	Class suffix	+	Class currency	Class suffix
A Q I S J Z	}}{	Income Accumulated	None	}}{	Unhedged	None	}}{	Same as fund base currency	None
Income distributed		d	Portfolio hedged		h
Income distributed (fees and expenses charged to capital)		X	Benchmark hedged		b	Any currency*		(CUR*)
			NAV hedged		n

* Relevant three letter currency abbreviation – please refer to the relevant prospectus.

Within a fund, all share classes pursue the same investment objective and share in the performance of the same portfolio of investments. The differences come in areas such as, but not limited to, the fee structures, eligibility, minimum investments, dividend policy, and currency exposure.

To find out more, read the relevant prospectus, available at troweprice.com.

Information We Must Receive

To help counter money laundering, tax evasion, and the crimes and terrorism sometimes associated with them, we are required by law to collect and verify information about every investor who applies to us. This includes details about identity and tax status ultimate beneficial ownership of the assets, expected level and duration of investment etc. Your account can only be opened after this verification process is complete.

At any point during the registration process, we may ask you to provide additional information. You will also be informed in what format the final documents need to be delivered as original or as copy only. Note that if your account has already been established, but the documentation has not been received in the format required, we will not be able to pay out any dividend, or redemption proceeds or process transfers until we have received them.

Submitting Your Application

The registration form itself contains all the instructions you should need in order to complete it. To make your application process as fast as possible, and to minimize the risk of delays in processing, we suggest that you use the following checklist:

- Obtain an editable or printable copy of the registration form. If you have not been provided with one, you can find it online at troweprice.com and print it out or contact the administration agent.
- Complete the registration form, checking carefully that you have provided all applicable information and that it is legible.
- Sign and date the registration form and get any other required signatories to do the same (in line with the authorised powers of the legal entity, and supporting signatory list).
- Gather any additional supporting documentation; fax or email, these as instructed on the registration form before mailing (if required).
- If there is a Power of Attorney the Transfer Agent will provide you with a list of required documentation in order that we may also verify the identity of this party.

We will work with our Transfer Agent to open your account and you will be notified about the fact that either your account is open or that we need more information before we can open it. It is important therefore that your contact information is fully completed on the registration form.

Making Your Initial Investment

After your account has been fully approved, opened successfully and is operational, you can make your initial investment by using either the transaction form (available at troweprice.com) or a duly signed dealing instruction for the relevant SICAV.

For dealing terms, including times, payment methods, and policies, see page 5 of this guide and “Investing in the Funds” in the relevant prospectus.

Documentation Required for entities based in EU/EEA Member States and Switzerland. All documentation must be in English, German or French (original language or translation).

In all cases the documents listed below should be provided in order to register an account.

Subject to review of the above documentation, our Transfer Agent will confirm if any supplementary documents will be required. Such documents may include Articles of Association/Incorporation, identification documents for certain authorized persons/beneficial owners for the account, organizational structure or policy documents etc.

We will also indicate at account opening if we need to receive any documents in original or original certified copy.

If you would like to obtain a more complete list prior to collecting any documentation please contact the Fund Transfer Agent for full details.

Maintaining and Modifying Your Account

Statements and other Communications

As an investor in one or more funds of the SICAVs, you will receive periodic communications from us. Below is a list of what these communications are and available delivery options.

- Account statement Post, fax, email, online portal
You may request quarterly or monthly statements. These report the market value of your account and any transactions that took place during the statement period. Your statements will also confirm how many shares of each fund you hold.
- Shareholder reports Post, online
Twice a year, we distribute reports (i.e. the annual and semi annual report) with updated information about the fund, its holdings, and its performance.
- Annual General Meeting notice Post
Each year, the fund holds a meeting of shareholders. We will communicate the meeting details and agenda in advance and also share information about how to vote on any matters discussed.
- Notice of other meetings Post
If we hold additional shareholder meetings, you will be informed about these as well.

Submitting Deal Instructions

For all types of transactions except transfers, you can place deal instructions by any of the following methods:

1. Download and fill out the transaction form for the relevant SICAV (available at www.troweprice.com).
2. Write a letter of instruction, on the letterhead of the account holder, that includes complete information describing the transaction.
3. Use an electronic or automated deal service (entity investors only; see Electronic/Automated Deal Services below).

All forms or letters MUST be signed by at least one authorised signatory. For accounts held directly by individuals, all owners must sign. You can deliver a form or letter by fax or post (see contact information on page 9).

Under normal circumstances, deal instructions that we receive and accept by 13:00 CET on a full bank business day (as defined in the relevant prospectus) will be processed that day.

If the deal instructions are incomplete or unclear, they will not be sent on for processing until you have been contacted about, and have provided, any missing information or clarification.

BUYING OR SELLING SHARES

Make sure your deal instructions include all of the following:

- your account number
- Sub-fund and share class details (including ISIN code)
- the value of the transaction (in currency or number of shares)

SWITCHING FUNDS

A switch is the transfer of value from one sub-fund (or share class) within the relevant SICAV to another or the transfer of value from one sub-fund (or share class) of one SICAV to a sub-fund (or share class) of another SICAV. Make sure your deal instructions include all of the following:

- the fund and share class being sold from (including ISIN code)
- the fund and share class to be purchased (including ISIN code)
- the amount to be switched

When indicating the amount to be switched, you may specify it as any ONE of the following:

- a percentage of the original holding
- the number of shares (and share class) of the fund being sold from
- the number of shares (and share class) of the purchasing fund
- the cash value to be transferred

You must specify ONLY ONE of these. Switch instructions that contain more than one indication of value will be held back from processing until you provide clarification.

Because a switch involves the simultaneous placement of two deal instructions (a sell deal from the originating holding and a purchase deal into the new fund/share class), it is important that your dealing instructions be complete and clear in order to ensure that both transactions are executed on the same business day.

TRANSFERRING SHARES

A transfer is the direct transfer of ownership of shares, without any shares being redeemed or liquidated. All transfers must be handled by the administration agent. Note that all transfers may be subject to eligibility requirements and may be cancelled if these requirements are not met.

Transfer to a new beneficial/legal owner

The new owner must already have an account with the relevant SICAV. Post or fax a letter instruction, on official letterhead, signed by an authorised signatory of the originating account, that includes all of the following:

- the originating account number
- the fund name and ISIN or other identifier
- the number of shares or percentage of the holding to be transferred
- the receiving account number

Transfer to a new administration provider/platform (re-registration)

Transfers of this type should be originated through the provider/platform you will be moving to. The two providers/platforms will work with the administration agent to move the shares. The new account must be eligible to hold the shares and, if it is not, we reserve the right to compulsorily switch or redeem the shares. Please refer to the prospectus for further information.

MOVING SHARES TO ANOTHER ACCOUNT OF YOURS

If a new account is to be opened for administrative purposes only, and there is no change in underlying ownership of the shares, you can move fund shares from one account to another via a transfer. Follow the same instructions as for a transfer to a new beneficial /legal owner above.

- Entity investors Submit a letter, on company letterhead and signed by an authorised signatory, designating the person or entity (for example, a custodian or trading agent) who is to have Power of Attorney.
