Market Commentary

Global equity and fixed income markets rose in June as the market continued to recover from the sharp tariff-related selloff in early April. Investors were encouraged by some lower-than-expected inflation data and news that the U.S. and China agreed on a framework to help them implement the "consensus" they recently reached on trade-related matters. As the month ended, some of the major indexes reached new highs amid optimism that trade deals with U.S. trading partners would be announced before the 90-day pause on reciprocal tariffs ends on July 9. Investors were also hopeful that based on inflation data and comments from some Federal Reserve officials the central bank would resume lowering interest rates at some point in the months ahead.

The portfolios continue to have a more prudent stance on equity and fixed income securities at large and have an overweight allocation to cash, which can provide liquidity with reasonable yields. While more moderate tariff levels may have reduced recession risks, tariffs could contribute to lower growth and persistent inflation given still significant baseline tariffs, unresolved sectoral tariffs, and elevated rates on China. Additionally, high interest rates in the U.S. represent a headwind to growth prospects.

Key risks to global markets include the impacts of global trade tensions, threats of higher inflation, central bank missteps, and ongoing geopolitical tensions. We maintain a disciplined approach to investing and continue to search for compelling opportunities moving forward.

Glide Path (%)

The glide path represents the shifting of asset classes over time and shows how the fund's asset mix becomes more conservative—both prior to and after retirement—as time elapses.

Past performance is not a guarantee or a reliable indicator of future results. Investment return and principal value will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. To obtain the most recent month-end performance, visit troweprice.com.

The Fund's total return figures reflect the reinvestment of dividends and capital gains, if any.

The principal value of the Target Funds is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after the target date, which is the approximate year an investor plans to retire (assumed to be age 65) and likely stop making new investments in the fund. If an investor plans to retire significantly earlier or later than age 65, the funds may not be an appropriate investment even if the investor is retiring on or near the target date. The funds' allocations among a broad range of underlying T. Rowe Price stock and bond funds will change over time. The funds emphasize asset accumulation prior to retirement, balance the need for reduced market risk and income as retirement approaches, and focus on supporting an income stream over a moderate postretirement withdrawal horizon. The funds are not designed for a lump-sum redemption at the target date and do not guarantee a particular level of income. The funds maintain a significant allocation to equities both prior to and after the target date, which can result in greater volatility.

The stated expense ratio includes the applicable 12b-1 fee.

The expense ratios shown are as of the fund's most recent prospectus.

All investments are subject to risk, including the possible loss of the money you invest.

The fund(s) may have other share classes available that offer different investment minimums and fees. See the prospectus for details.
