Investment Objective & Strategy

The fund seeks to provide long-term capital growth.

- The fund seeks to provide long-term capital growth.
- Invests primarily in securities of companies that it expects to generate a majority of their revenue from technology or enablement through technology. The fund considers technology enabled companies as those whose competitive edge and/or market share are largely based on their technology capabilities.
- The fund's primary emphasis is on the common stocks of enduring technology companies.
- The fund primarily invests in large firms with established track records, but can also invest in small companies offering new technologies, including companies that only recently began to publicly trade. Investments may also include companies positioned to benefit from advances in technology even if they are not direct technology providers.

Risks: Technology Companies: A fund that focuses its investments in specific industries or sectors is more susceptible to adverse developments affecting those industries and sectors than a more broadly diversified fund. Foreign Investing: Non-U.S. securities tend to be more volatile and have lower overall liquidity and trading volume than investments in U.S. securities and may lose value because of adverse local, political, social, or economic developments overseas, or due to changes in the exchange rates between foreign currencies and the U.S. dollar. Emerging markets: Investments in emerging market countries are subject to greater risk and overall volatility than investments in the U.S. and other developed markets. See the prospectus for more detail on the fund's principal risks.
