INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGY

The fund seeks a high level of income consistent with low volatility of principal value.

- Invests in a diversified portfolio of shorter-term investment-grade corporate and government securities, asset-backed securities, bank obligations, residential mortgage-backed securities, commercial mortgage-backed securities, municipal bonds, and emerging market corporate bonds.
- Normally, the fund will invest at least 80% of its net assets in bonds, and the securities purchased by the fund will primarily be rated investment-grade at the time of purchase.
- While the fund may purchase an individual security with a maturity of up to 5 years, under normal conditions the fund's dollar-weighted average effective maturity will be 1.5 years or less.

BENEFITS AND RISKS

- The fund aims to offer income above that of a money market fund, with minimal share price fluctuation.
- Due to the nature of the fund's investment universe, the fund will take on incrementally more credit risk than a money market fund.
- Unlike money market funds, which are managed with the aim to maintain a stable share price, the fund's price can decline.
- Additionally, this fund is subject to interest rate risk, as a rise in interest rates may cause the price of its securities to fall. However, share price fluctuation should typically be less than that found in long term bond strategies.

*U.S. Treasury securities are issued by the U.S. Treasury and are backed by the full faith and credit of the U.S. government. The ratings of U.S. Treasury securities are derived from the ratings on the U.S. government.

U.S. government agency securities are issued or guaranteed by a U.S. government agency, and may include conventional pass-through securities and collateralized mortgage obligations; unlike Treasuries, government agency securities are not issued directly by the U.S. government and are generally unrated but may have credit support from the U.S. Treasury (e.g., FHLMC and FNMA issues) or a direct government guarantee (e.g., GNMA issues). Therefore, this category may include rated and unrated securities.

Definitions

Beta: A measure of market risk of an investment option that shows how responsive the investment is to a given market index, such as the Standard & Poor's 500 Index. By definition, the beta of the benchmark is 1.00. An investment with a beta of 1.10 is expected to perform 10% better than the index in up markets and 10% worse in down markets. Usually, higher betas represent riskier investments. Figures are calculated using monthly data and are net of fees.

ADDITIONAL DISCLOSURES

ETFs are bought and sold at market prices, not NAV. Investors generally incur the cost of the spread between the prices at which shares are bought and sold. Buying and selling shares may result in brokerage commissions which will reduce returns.
