Past performance is not a guarantee or a reliable indicator of future results. Investment return and principal value will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. The Fund's total return figures reflect the reinvestment of dividends and capital gains, if any.

The T. Rowe Price Fund shares the portfolio of an existing fund (the original share class of the fund is referred to as the "investor class"). The total return figures for this I Class have been calculated using the performance data of the Investor Class (incepted 12/29/00) up to the inception date of the I Class (7/6/17) and the actual performance results of the I Class since that date. Because the I Classes are expected to have lower expenses than the Investor Classes, the I Class performance, had it existed over the periods shown, would have been higher.

The after-tax returns presented reflect the return after taxes on dividends and capital gain distributions and the return after taxes on dividends, capital gain distributions, and gains (or losses) from redemptions of shares held for the time period shown, as applicable. After-tax returns reflect the highest federal income tax rate in effect at the time of each distribution but exclude state and local taxes. During periods when a fund incurs a loss, the post-liquidation after-tax return may exceed the fund's other returns because the loss generates a tax benefit that is factored into the result. An investor's actual after-tax return will likely differ from those shown and depend their individual tax situation. After-tax returns shown are not relevant to investors who hold their fund shares through tax-deferred arrangements, such as a 401(k) account or an IRA. Past after-tax returns do not indicate future performance. The fund(s) may have other share classes available that offer different investment minimums and fees. See the prospectus for details.

Risks: Tax-efficient investing: The fund's tax-efficient approach to investing could cause the fund to underperform similar funds that do not make tax efficiency a primary focus. Growth investing: The fund's growth approach to investing could cause it to underperform other stock funds that employ a different investment style. See the prospectus for more detail on the fund's principal risks.
