INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGY

The fund seeks to provide high income and capital appreciation.

The fund will normally invest at least 80% (and potentially all) of net assets (including any borrowings for investment purposes) in bonds that are denominated in emerging markets currencies, and in derivative instruments that provide investment exposure to such securities.

Emerging market bonds include fixed rate and floating rate bonds that are issued by governments, government agencies, and supranational organizations.

Holdings may include the lowest-rated bonds, including those in default.

Expect to maintain an intermediate- to long-weighted average maturity; there are no maturity restrictions on the overall portfolio or on individual securities.

BENEFITS AND RISKS

Significantly greater income potential than U.S. Treasury securities or investment-grade sovereign bonds—compensating investors for taking higher risk.

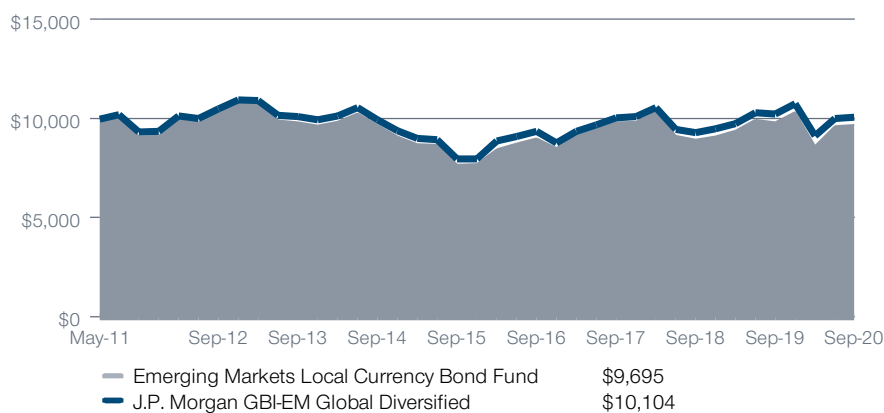

Effective portfolio diversification relative to an all-U.S. bond portfolio based on calculated risk analysis.

Possible higher short-term volatility than U.S. investments as political instability may impact emerging economies. Investing internationally involves special risks, including economic and political uncertainty and currency fluctuation. The fund is subject to significant risk based solely on the weakness of foreign currencies versus the U.S. dollar and changes in the exchange rates.

To the extent the funds use futures, swaps, and other derivatives, they are exposed to additional volatility and potential losses.

CUMULATIVE RETURNS

Growth of $10,000

INVEST WITH CONFIDENCE®

Definitions

Beta: A measure of market risk of an investment option that shows how responsive the investment is to a given market index, such as the Standard & Poor's 500 Index. By definition, the beta of the benchmark is 1.00. An investment with a beta of 1.10 is expected to perform 10% better than the index in up markets and 10% worse in down markets. Usually, higher betas represent riskier investments. Figures are calculated using monthly data and are net of fees.

Additional Disclosures

Morningstar rated the fund 4 and 4 stars among 67 and 64 Emerging-Markets Local-Currency Bond funds for the 3- and 5-year periods (as applicable) ending 9/30/2020, respectively. The Morningstar Rating™ for funds, or "star rating", is calculated for funds with at least a three-year history. Exchange-traded funds and open-ended mutual funds are considered a single population for comparative purposes. It is calculated based on a Morningstar Risk-Adjusted Return measure that accounts for variation in a managed product's monthly excess performance, placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent performance. The top 10% of products in each product category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 stars, and the bottom 10% receive 1 star.
