INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGY

The fund seeks to provide current income and capital appreciation.

The fund will normally invest at least 80% of its assets in foreign bonds. It may also invest up to 25% in below investment-grade bonds and up to 20% in U.S. dollar-denominated bonds.

The fund normally does not attempt to hedge its currency exposure—"pure play" exposure to the international bond markets.

BENEFITS AND RISKS

High-quality, investment-grade international bonds may offer higher yields than U.S. Treasury securities or investment-grade bonds in exchange for greater risk.

International fixed-income securities offer attractive diversification benefits relative to an all-U.S. bond portfolio.

International investments are generally more volatile than domestic investments.

Because the fund is normally heavily exposed to foreign currencies and does not attempt to hedge the impact of these currencies on the dollar, changes in currency exchange rates are likely to have a significant effect on the fund's performance.

Definitions

Beta: A measure of market risk of an investment option that shows how responsive the investment is to a given market index, such as the Standard & Poor's 500 Index. By definition, the beta of the benchmark is 1.00. An investment with a beta of 1.10 is expected to perform 10% better than the index in up markets and 10% worse in down markets. Usually, higher betas represent riskier investments. Figures are calculated using monthly data and are net of fees.

The top 10% of products in each product category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 stars, and the bottom 10% receive 1 star.
