Investment Objective & Strategy

The fund seeks long-term growth of capital through investments primarily in the common stocks of companies located (or with primary operations) in Latin America. Favor companies with attractive valuations and earnings that are growing faster than their local, regional peers. Identify themes/trends and industries that are likely to experience high future growth. Securities are chosen based on bottom-up research, supported by a top-down perspective. Country allocation is driven by stock selection.

Risks: Investing in Latin America: Many Latin American countries have histories of inflation, government overspending, political and economic instability, social unrest, high interest and unemployment rates, and extreme currency fluctuations. Many of these countries tend to be highly reliant on the exportation of commodities so their economies may be significantly impacted by fluctuations in commodity prices and the global demand for certain commodities. Emerging markets Investments in emerging market countries are subject to greater risk and overall volatility than investments in the U.S. and other developed markets. See the prospectus for more detail on the fund's principal risks.
