Risk: Interest rates: A rise in interest rates typically causes the price of a fixed rate debt instrument to fall and its yield to rise. Conversely, a decline in interest rates typically causes the price of a fixed rate debt instrument to rise and the yield to fall. Derivatives: Derivatives can be highly volatile, illiquid, and difficult to value, and changes in the value of a derivative may not properly correlate with changes in the value of the underlying asset, reference rate, or index.

Strategy

The fund primarily allocates to the following strategies:

- Macro: Incorporates a discretionary top-down macro view across equities, rates/sovereign bonds, FX, and credit. Positions are sourced through bottom-up, security level opportunities from the T. Rowe Price Investment Platform.
- Equity Long/Short: Hedged equity strategies which are driven by T. Rowe Price Portfolio Manager and Analyst views from across the research platform. Strategies span the global equity universe with both diversified and sector-specific approaches.
- Fixed Income: Fixed income strategies trading both rates and credit relative value across global markets. Incorporate Portfolio Manager views and bottom-up analysis with absolute-return or defensive credit mandates.
- Systematic: Strategies pursuing alternative risk premia such as carry, value, momentum, or volatility across country level equities, US Treasuries, and FX.
