INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGY

The fund seeks to provide long-term capital growth by investing primarily in the common stocks of growth companies.

Invest primarily in common stocks of U.S. companies in sectors of the economy that, in T. Rowe Price's view, are the fastest growing or have the greatest growth potential.

Stock selection based on companies with the following:

- Earnings growth rates which generally exceed that of the average company in the Russell 1000 Growth Index
- Favorable company fundamentals
- Effective management
- Reasonable stock valuations

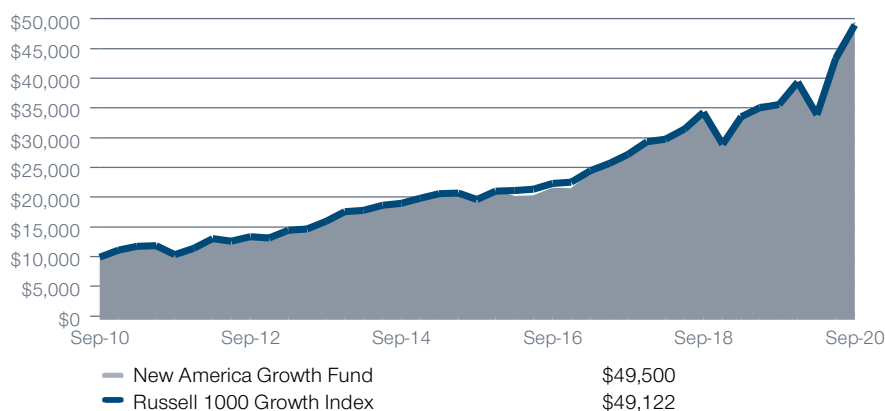

BENEFITS AND RISKS

Potential for significant, long-term growth of capital by seeking to participate in the growth of companies positioned to benefit from the dynamic technological, social, medical, economic, and business developments that are defining the "new America".

The fund may entail above-average risk since growth companies pay few dividends and are typically more volatile than slower-growing companies with high dividends.

INVEST WITH CONFIDENCE®

Definitions

Beta: A measure of market risk of an investment option that shows how responsive the investment is to a given market index, such as the Standard & Poor's 500 Index. By definition, the beta of the benchmark is 1.00. An investment with a beta of 1.10 is expected to perform 10% better than the index in up markets and 10% worse in down markets.
