INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGY

The fund seeks to provide long-term growth through a combination of capital appreciation and current income.

The fund will invest at least 80% of net assets in the equity of securities of companies that derive at least 50% of revenue or profits from, or commit at least 50% of assets to, real estate activities.

– The fund is likely to maintain a significant portion of assets in real estate investment trusts (REITs).

Bottom-up stock analysis seeks to capitalize on high-quality companies with above-average levels of total return.

BENEFITS AND RISKS

The stocks of companies engaged in the real estate sector could provide significant long-term total return.

Real estate investments tend to move independently of stocks and bonds, offering diversification benefits.

Narrow sector focus entails more volatility than funds with a broader scope.

As with all stock funds, this fund's share price can fall because of weakness in the broad market, a particular industry, or specific holdings. Diversification cannot assure a profit or protect against loss in a declining market.

Performance data quoted represents past performance and is not a reliable indicator of future performance. Investment return and principal value will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. To obtain the most recent month-end performance, visit troweprice.com. The T. Rowe Price fund shares the portfolio of an existing fund (the original share class of the fund is referred to as the "investor class"). The total return figures for this I Class have been calculated using the performance data of the Investor Class up to the inception date of the I Class (12/17/15) and the actual performance results of the I Class since that date. Because the I Classes are expected to have lower expenses than the Investor Classes, the I Class performance, had it existed over the periods shown, would have been higher. The average annual total return figures reflect the reinvestment of dividends and capital gains, if any.

The fund(s) may have other share classes available that offer different investment minimums and fees. See the prospectus for details.

Definitions

Beta: A measure of market risk of an investment option that shows how responsive the investment is to a given market index, such as the Standard & Poor's 500 Index. By definition, the beta of the benchmark is 1.00. An investment with a beta of 1.10 is expected to perform 10% better than the index in up markets and 10% worse in down markets. Usually, higher betas represent riskier investments. Figures are calculated using monthly data and are net of fees.
