Investment Objective & Strategy

- A targeted blend of equity and fixed income asset class exposure diversified across a set of actively managed T. Rowe Price ETFs, T. Rowe Price mutual funds, and third-party passive ETFs.
- Within each asset class, the model portfolio offers tactically managed allocations across a broad range of underlying funds representing domestic U.S. and international market segments.

⁽²⁾ Net annual returns reflect the deduction of a 3% annual wrap fee which is the maximum anticipated wrap fee deducted from the gross composite returns. Actual fees may vary. Gross returns reflect the fees and expenses of the respective underlying mutual funds but do not reflect any wrap fees. Returns include reinvestment of dividends and capital gains, if any.

An investor's actual account returns may differ from the portfolio returns shown due to decisions made by the program sponsor, including a selection of funds and/or share classes. The investor's advisor may also charge a fee. If these fees were deducted from the returns shown, the returns would be lower.

Risks: All investments are subject to risk, including possible loss of principal. The model portfolios are subject to the risks of the underlying mutual funds utilized in the model. Diversification does not assure a profit or protect against loss in a declining market.

⁽³⁾ The Investor Class inception on September 14, 2015.
